DISASTER.

Fall of an Elevator in Boston-Three Men Killed.

The Boston Post of the 25 h says:-About 1 o'clock yesterday evening three of the employes on duty at Oxnard's large sugar rednery, Nos. 241, 243, 245, and 247 Frond street, were engaged in hoisting the elevator, which weighs about four thousand pounds, to which was attached an iron wagon containing some five hundred pounds of sagar. The men stool upon the broad platform of the elevator, reposing quietly against the sides of the wagon as it was slowly being raised to the upper story of the building, which is eight stories high. Everything in connection with the gearing and other appliances of the elevator seemed to work smoothly. It had been carefully examined by the engineer in the morning as usual, and pronounced all right. It had been in almost constant use during the day, with no indications that anything was wrong or unsale, and so far as man was able to discern, life upon its platform was just as secure as in any other part of the building. Smoothly and safely the ele-vator had ascended to within a few feet of the attic story, when suddenly and without the slightest warning, the ropes gave way and the massive, heavy framework of wood and fron, with its human freight was precipitated from the attic to the cellar, where it struck with a tremensious crash, The terrible noise spread icar and dismay through the entire building, every one seeming to know, as if by in-tinct, that a terrible calamity had befallen some of their associates. Rushing quickly to the scene of the desister they there witnessed a horrid and most heart-rending speciacle. Michael Donovan and Antonie Taylor lay quietly amid the wreck of timber and iron in the cold emorace of death, while Kritz Kasting was writing and groacing in the most terrible agony, his neck and timbs being fear-fully mangled, while his lower intestines were protruding some eight or nine inches from his stomach. As speedly as possible the dead and the dying were removed from the debus and their bodies laid side by side on the lower floor of the refinery, which was thick with the slimy accumulations of molasses and sogar. The last spectacle was fearfully horrible to the em ployes of the establishment, who gathered around to look upon the dead bodies and wit ness the dying agonies of their companion who but a moment before was well and strong as themselves. The faces of Donovan and Taylor were calm and placid, and gave no evidence that they had met with a violent death, while the set eyes and clenched jaws, and heavy, violent breathings of Kasting told their own story of suffering and agony, that could only be relieved by death, which came quickly, the poor sufferer surviving only about thirty minutes. All three of the men had been for a long time employed at the refinery, and were steady and industrious laborers. Michael Donoyan resided in Purchase street, and leaves a wife and two children; Antoine Taylor, the next victim, also leaves a wite and children, who reside in Hanover street; and Kritz Kasting, the last of these unfortunate men, lived in South Boston, where a young wife is left to mourn the loss of a kind and adectionate husband.

FRIGHTFUL TRAGEDY. Murder of Two Boatmon at Mound City,

Illinois. The New Albany (Ind.) Ledger of July 23 gays:-

By private letter, written by Mrs. David Southwick to a friend in this city, we learn that a horrible double murder was commuted on a flatboat at Mound City, Dilinois, on Sunday night last, whereby two New Albanians, David South-wick and Asa Hodge, were murdered in cold blood by an acquaintance named Rufus Adamson, also a resident of this city. From all we could glean from the letter, it seems that Adamson came on board the fla boat on the night in question, and stabbed Southwick in the neck, killing him while he was asleep. The monster then turned upon Hodge, who was knocked in the head, and his body thrown overboard.

After the commission of the crime Adamson threatened Mrs. South wick with instant death if she gave the alarm, and jumping into a skilf made his escape. What could have been the motive of the murderer, unless it was for the of robbery, we are as yet unable to learn, as the information given by the letter is quite brief.

The victims and perpetrator of this terrible tragedy are well known in this city. Southwick was a striker on the river, but devoted a great deal of his time to fishing. He, with his family, were living in a flatboat at the time of the murder, and we presume he was catching fish for the Cairo market. As a Hodge is a well known painter, and has been living with his family at Cairo for some time past. As he was seen painting on the Belle Lee and other boats at Mound City, a lew weeks ago, it is supposed that he was boarding on the flatboat with Southwick's family for convenience, both being well acquainted, in fact they were raised together in this city. Adamson also bearded with Southwick, he having been engaged at some kind of work at Mound City. His father, Alex ander Adamson, lives here, and is a very worthy citizen. His boy Rufus is wild and said to be described in the said of the war. desperately wicked at neart. During the war he was a private in the Sixty-sixth Indiana regi-ment, and served a good part of his term in the guard house. For the past few years he has been working about the rolling mills here, and on steamboats as a laborer. He is about twenty years of age, short, and neavy set.

SINGULAR.

A Young Bride Spirited Away and Im-mured in a Lunatic Asylum.

A singular case came on Saturday before Judge Bedle, at the Hoboken County Court House, Hudson City, New Jersey, It was an application for a writ of habeas corpus to deliver from the custody of the Governors of Trenton Lunatic Asylum, a Mrs. Merrit, now conduced in that institution. From the affidavits made by the applicant and others, it would appear that on the 4th of July last, Colonel B. D. Merrit, of Hudson City, was married to Mrs. Frances
M. J. Morton, widow of the late William Morson.
She continued to reside with her husband at her own residence, near Mauwah, in the county of Bergen, until the 9th of July. Early in the morning of that day, her brother, Elward Livingston Price, of Newark, a lawyer, and mem-ber of the last Legis ature, went to her house, and sent word that he wished to see her down stairs. She went down, leaving her husband in the room. Her brother, who had a carriage in readness, put her in it against her consunt, and had her taken to the Bergen County Poor House, where she was locked up until the 17th. She was then taken to Hackensack, before a jury, summoned by commission, appointed by the Chancellor, in pursuance of a petition filed on the 10th of July. Without friends, or any one to appear for her to contradict the statements as to her insanity, she wa found to be insune, and on the morning of the 18th of July was taken by her brother and confined in the Lunatic Asylum of Trenton. From the time she was taken from the house until her consnewent in the Asylum, her husband was unable to discover her whereabouts, and it was only a few days ago he learned from a gentleman in Jersey City that she had been placed in an asylum. Immediately on becoming ac-quainted with this, he applied through his counsel, Senator Winfield, for a writ of habeas corpus, which was allowed by his Honor, Jadge Bedle, returnable vesterday morning. The matter duly came before the Court. Dr. Buttolph, Superintendent of the Asylum, returned that Mrs. Merritt was placed in his custody by her brother, Mr. Price, Mr. E. L. Price asked for a postponement for four weeks, and asserted that the adjournment would cause no inconvenience. The lady, he said, was properly cared for. The members of her own family had declared she was in sane; a jury had so found, and the husband would have been notice had it been known where he then was. The case was

POLITICAL.

-Whatever the Republicans of other States may be doing, the Republicans of Indiana can surely not be charged with lukewarmness and inactivity. Satisfied as they are that they will elect their State ticket, in October, by from 15,000 to 20,000 majority, and that they will give Grant and Collax, in November, a larger majority than the Republicans have yet ob-tained in Indiana, they proceed with the same energy and painstaking deliberation as though the issue were extremely doubtful, and as though their Democratic adversaries would con-test every inch of ground. test every inch of ground,

George Wilkes makes the following offer:-"We have a little money left, notwithstanding our impeachment losses, and stand ready to start snew with a few thousands on General Grant against Seymonr for the next President, By way of making a distinct offer, we will begin with $5000. We will double this offer it re quired, and go even a little further if pressed bard. Who speaks?"

to Blair's revolutionary letter, says: "General Blair's doctrine on this subject is the doctrine of the Democratic party. He has expressed it forcibly; but others have advocated the same thing, and it is in accordance with true wisdom and sound policy.

-The Charleston Mercury says:—"The next Presidential election will, in all probability, settle the political desirny, not only of the Southern, but of the United States, for the next half century."

Brick Pomeroy having established a branch office of the Lacrosse Democrat under the rooms occupied by the Sun, in New York, a coemporary remarks that "it is, without doubt, the meanest thing under the sun -There is talk in Columbus, Ohio, among Democrats, of running a Republican for Con-

FWINGING ROUND THE CIRCLE.-There are fifty ways of alleviating the agonles of dyspepsia for the moment; but there is only one way to CURE it. After 'swinging round the circle" of temporary palliative; the patient finds that the disease, so far from being subdued, has actually gathered strength, while he has been parleying with its symptoms.

The only way to get rid of the demon is to endow the stomach with sufficient strength to cast it out and keep it out. Impart permanent energy to the digestive organs with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and the object is accomplished. This powerful vegetable remedy is not a mere stimulant. It does not brace up the gastric machinery for an hour or two, leaving it when the temporary excitement has passed off, in a worse state than before. Such is the effect of the ordinary alcoholic nostrums. They keep the stomach in a perpetual see-saw between unnatural activity and utter relaxation. Not so the BITTERS. Medi cated with the finest tonic, alterative, and anti-bil ious extracts, they permanently reinforce and continuously regulate the assimilating organs. Such is the experience of tens of thousands. At this debliftafing season of the year, when the solvent principle of the gastric juice is weakened by a constant drain of the animal fluids through the pores, Host stran's BITTERS is an article of prime necessity for the weak To reglect the use of a tonic and alterative, so won derfully efficacious and entirely harmless, is simply torego the blessings of health and vigor, and vi untarily accept feebleness and discomfort in their

It is interesting chiefly for performing its revolution within the boundaries of the solar system for the comparatively short period within which its revolution takes place, and for the reason that we know more about it than we do of those vast etherial creations which visit our system and then rush off into space. When the interest in comets equals that which the public have in Charles Stokes & Co.'s Ciothing House under the Continental, people will know more about them.

BRONCHITIS, CATABRIL, DYSPEPSIA, ETC.-The wonderful cures of these diseases, by using the Gettysburg Katalysine Water, are worthy the attention of all who suffer from these complaints as this water acts directly on the mucous surfaces with astonisanne curative power. The same may be said of rheumat ism and kidney diseases, including debility and prostration of the vital powers from mental and physical Pamphlets giving reliablestatements of well-known
